Congratulations and recognition of the attending new beekeepers who completed the GCBA Beginner Beekeeping Course.

Please consider entering items in the August Cuyahoga County Fair. More information to follow.

GCBA was able to bulk purchase some excellent beekeeping books at reduced rates. They are on the back table.

Plant swap planned for May outside the building on the left. Bring something from your garden (description/information would be helpful) to exchange for a new plant.

If you are not receiving the newsletter, please see Janice in the back to confirm your email address.

Elections will be here soon. Please consider stepping up into an officer position to serve the club. If you are interested, please talk to any board member.

The GCBA board met and decided to suspend the apiary registration at CCF since we will have no ongoing hives there this season. The board has decided to commit their time in assisting the two (very young) scholarship winners and their families to ensure a successful start to beekeeping. Look for updates in future newsletters regarding their progress.
